

18/11/1948;

DOC 602

6. 4. 48.

Dear Mr. [unclear]
I am writing to you today to express my concern regarding the recent developments in our country. We are facing a difficult period and I believe it is important for us to work together to find a way forward.
Firstly, I would like to express my concern about the recent political situation. The government has been unable to form a stable coalition, which has led to political instability and uncertainty.
This has had a negative impact on our economy and our citizens' lives. We need to find a way to resolve this situation and move forward. I believe that the best way to do this is through dialogue and compromise between all political parties. This will require a willingness to listen to different viewpoints and to work together towards a common goal. I hope that we can find a way to achieve this in the coming weeks and months.
Secondly, I would like to express my concern about the recent increase in violence and instability in our country. This has been a source of concern for many of us and has had a negative impact on our citizens' lives. We need to find a way to resolve this situation and move forward. I believe that the best way to do this is through dialogue and compromise between all
political parties. This will require a willingness to listen to different viewpoints and to work together towards a common goal. I hope that we can find a way to achieve this in the coming weeks and months.